Organized amiability is a feature of fashionable life. One instance is the determination of several leaders in fashionable society to open their doors to poor but deserving persons out of their set. The prevalence of new names in fashionable lists has been remarked. These are the indications of this more gracious and kindly spirit. Several women of fashion are getting up early dances for the benefit of young men who have to work for a living. Only men of leisure can stand the strain of fashionable hours. But there are many honest young men who dance well and are otherwise presentable, yet being due at their offices at 9 o'clock are shut out from social gayeties. For these are the Cinderella dances. which break up instead of beginning at midnight.-Chicago Post.

MISS POLLARD TESTIFIES. She is Unexpectedly Called To the Stand-Says Too Much.

Washington, April 5.—Judge Bradley's admonitions of the night before had the effect of reducing the attendance at the circuit court today to the thinnest audience yet gathered, and some of the men wore a sheepish air.

The defense made an unexpected move by calling Miss Pollard to the stand, and questioned her about the birth of her second child, which she said was born at noon on February 8, 1888. "I only held it in my arms two hours, according to my promise to him," she began.

"Now, now, now Miss Pollard," Mr. Butterworth began, warning Miss Pollard with great solicitude, to confine herself to answering his questions.

lard with great solicitude, to confine herself to answering his questions.

Mr. Wilson also admonished her.

The child had been taken to the Protestant foundling asylum on Fourteenth street in Washington, where she had visited it with Dr. Mary Parsons once. She continued: "I gave it a little German name. I pinned a note in its clothing so they could name it. I was reading Carlyle and I named it from a character of his—Deitz Carlyle—a name as far as possible from that of Col. Breckinridge or my own."

The second time she saw the child was on the third of May at Wright's under-

When Mr. Butterworth asked how the funeral expenses had been paid, she said that Mrs. Parsons had looked after that, she supposed Col. Breckin-ridge paid them, but when Mrs. Parsons was recalled to the stand, they could ask her.

"That's all, Miss Pollard," said Mr. Butterworth, dismissing her and then he called for Dr. Mary Parsons, who was not forthcoming, however.

HERE'S A NEW GAME.

It Includes all the Old Games and is Called "Battle Ball." Boston, April 5.—A new gymnastic game, called by its inventor, Dr. D. A. Sargent of the Hemenway gymnasium, "Battle Ball," has proved so well adapted to the needs of gymnasium work that it seems destined to become general, even outlisde the confines of the school or college.

The game has been thus far tried only at Harvard, and has met every objection. Both the men in college and their fair co-students of the annex find it absorbingly interesting, quite replacing tennis as a competitive game.

It has the additional advantage of permitting any number of persons, within very large limits at least, to engage in play at once. Dr. Sargent will introduce it to the notice of the American association for the advancement of physical education, which meets in annual convention at New Haven today.

An illustrative game of battle ball will be given in the Yale gymnasium tonight by teams from the Sargent Normal school and Anderson's Normal, of New Haven Theorems Haven. The game embraces baseball, foot ball, hand ball, bowling, cricket and tennis, and will undoubtedly prove to be one of the most interesting of out-door sports. CALLS THEM OUTLAWS.

DON'T WANT STATEHOOD. Choctaw Council Will Hardly Entertain the Notion of a Change. CADDO, I. T., April 5 .- The Choctaw council has adjourned without making any provisions to treat with the Dawes commission, but to the contrary passed a resolution against sectionizing or mak-ing any kind of a change in their country, and will fight any attempt made by congress to repeal the treaty obligations.

They seem to hold the treaty as sacred as the bible. The members of the council were almost a unit in opposing a change. They own the largest portion of land, and are said to be growing rich at the expense of the poor full bloods.

OKLAHOMA TOWNSITES.

House Refuses to Accept Senate Amend-ment Compelling Railroads to Stop. WASHINGTON, April 5 .- The house today refused to accept the senate amendment to the bill requiring railroads in Oklahoma to establish stations at gov-

RHODE ISLAND ELECTION. Was a Complete Victory for the Ru-publicans. PROVIDENCE, April 5 .- The corrected election returns from all parts of the state today show that the Republican victory is even greater than at first sup-posed. Gov. Brown is re-elected by a plurality of over 6,000. The entire Re-publican ticket is victorious by about the same plurality, and the Republicans have 102 out of 108 members of the grand committee.

The next United States senator will be a Republican, and as George Peabody Wetmore was accepted by the conven-tion, his election may be said to be assured.
